Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)

(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
  - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
  - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or
- (ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

17 partners, employees, subsidiaries and parent companies, sister companies, and affiliated entities, and
18 also includes individuals and entities who act, have acted, purport to act, or have purported to act on 19 behalf of the United States Golf Association.

20           23.     For purposes of interpreting or construing the scope of the Requests for Production
21 contained herein, all terms shall be given their most expansive and inclusive interpretation. In order to 22 bring within the scope of these Requests for Production all information that might otherwise be
23 construed to be outside of their scope, the following rules of construction apply:

24           a. the singular shall include the plural and vice versa;
25           b. the masculine, feminine or neuter pronoun shall not exclude other genders;
26           c. the connectives “and” and “or” shall be construed either disjunctively or
27 conjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of the Request all responses
28 that might otherwise be construed to be outside its scope;

- d. the terms “any,” “all,” and “each” shall each be construed as encompassing any and all;
- e. the word “including” shall be read to mean including without limitation;
- f. the present term shall be construed to include the past term and vice versa; and
- g. references to employees, officers, directors, or agents shall include both current and former employees, officers, directors, and agents.

24. Notwithstanding the above, for any undefined term which You reasonably and on a good-faith basis contend is vague or ambiguous, You shall note the alleged vagueness or ambiguity in Your response and then apply the ordinary dictionary definition of said term, considering the context in which the term is used. Vagueness or ambiguity in this respect shall not be a basis for You to withhold or otherwise fail to search for and produce otherwise responsive Documents or Communications.

INSTRUCTIONS

The following Instructions shall govern Your responses and objections to the Requests for Production contained herein:

1. In responding to these Requests for Production, You should produce all Documents and Communications in Your possession, custody, or control, and all Documents and Communications reasonably available to You, including Documents and Communications in the possession, custody, or control of Your present and former consultants, investigators, accountants, agents, representatives, or other persons acting on Your behalf.

2. All non-privileged Documents and Communications requested herein should be produced in their entirety, with all attachments and enclosures, regardless of whether You consider the attachments and enclosures to be relevant to This Litigation.

3. Documents and Communications responsive to the Requests for Production shall be produced as they have been kept in the ordinary course of business, including the file labels and other identifying information concerning the source or custodian of the Document or Communication.

4. Responsive Documents and Communications should be clearly designated so as to reflect their owner and/or custodian and the location from where they were produced.

1       5. In the event You are able to produce only some of the Documents called for in a
2 particular Request for Production, You should produce all the Documents and Communications
3 available and state the reason(s) for Your inability to produce the remainder.

4       6. If there are no Documents or Communications responsive to any Request for
5 Production, You should so state in writing. If a Document or Communication requested is no longer
6 existing or available, You should so state in writing, and identify in detail why such Documents or
7 Communications are unavailable.

8       7. If You object to a portion of any Request for Production, You should produce all
9 Documents and Communications called for by the portion(s) of the Request for Production to which
10 You do not object.

11       8. If any responsive Document or Communication is withheld from production under a
12 claim of privilege or other legal protection against disclosure, You shall state for each Document or 13 Communication so withheld:

- 14       a. The claimed nature of the privilege or other ground for withholding disclosure (e.g., 15 attorney client privilege or work product doctrine); and
- 16       b. The following information:
  - 17           i. the type of Document or Communication that has been withheld (e.g., letter 18 or memorandum);
  - 19           ii. a description of the subject matter of the Document or Communication 20 sufficient to support and explain the basis for the privilege or other legal 21 protection claimed;
  - 22           iii. the date of the Document or Communication that has been withheld;
  - 23           iv. the author of the Document or Communication and any other recipients, and,
24 where not apparent, the relationship between the author and recipients.

25       9. If any information is redacted from a Document or Communication produced in 26 response to a Request for Production, You shall identify the redaction by stamping the word "Redacted"
27 on the Document or Communication at each place where information has been redacted and by
28 separately logging for each redaction the grounds for asserting a privilege or other legal protection

1 against disclosure of the redacted information.
2

3       10. Responsive Documents and Communications kept in an electronic form (including, but
4 not limited to, email, web pages, text messages, and .html files) should be retrieved in their native
5 format and produced either in the native format in which they are ordinarily maintained or in a
6 reasonably usable form in accordance with ESI Production Specifications agreed by the parties.

7       11. Responsive Documents and Communications kept in paper or other non-electronic form
8 should be scanned at a resolution of 300 dots per inch, producing the following:

- 9           a. Single-page “.TIF” image files with Group IV compression. Each .TIF image will 10           be endorsed in the lower-right corner with a unique production number and each
11           .TIF file name will be identical to that production number.
- 12           b. An IPRO “.LFP” image load file containing the physical document boundaries of 13           the original paper documents.
- 14           c. A “.TXT” file containing the OCR (optical character recognition) text of each 15           imaged page or document.

16       12. These Requests for Production are to be deemed continuing requests, and responsive
17       Documents and Communications that are discovered subsequent to an initial production should 18       nevertheless be promptly produced in the same manner as the initial production.

19       13. These Requests are not intended to be duplicative. If You produce a Document in 20       response to one Request, then You need not produce it in response to another Request.

21       14. Unless otherwise specified in a particular Request for Production, the time period
22       relevant for these Requests for Production is September 1, 2019 to the present.

23       15. You are directed to produce any responsive materials no later than April 25, 2023, and 24       to deliver those materials in the following manners, unless otherwise agreed by the parties:

- 25           a. For electronic Documents and Communications, by emailing or otherwise
26           electronically transmitting them to Rachel Brass at rbrass@gibsondunn.com.
- 27           b. For paper Documents and Communications that cannot be delivered electronically,
28           or which You object to delivering electronically, by mailing or otherwise delivering

1 them to the offices of BEALE, MICHAELS, SLACK & SHUGHART P.C., c/o
